american education and culture are suffering from a terrible soul numbing imbalance in which there is an overemphasis on basic quantifiable skills and knowledge and a de emphasis of more creative areas of the humanities especially the arts and aesthetics detels indicates that the marginalization of the arts and aesthetics in american education has been caused by a hard boundaried paradigm that has come to dominate american education according to this paradigm the arts are wrongly viewed and taught as separate unconnected disciplines of music visual arts dance and theater while their intimate connections to each other and to aesthetic experience and life in general are completely unrepresented the way out of this crisis is to change paradigms from a hard boundaried single minded valuation of specialization to a more soft boundaried curriculum that allows for specialized education in individual art forms as well as widespread interdisciplinary integration of the arts with each other and with general education at the k 12 and college levels without such a change we will be unable to equip our students with the necessary skills to understand and communicate about the increasingly complex sensually immersive artistic media and forms of the future can any of us entirely banish from our hearts and minds grave misgivings about the condition of the culture we now inhabit expressions of those misgivings are mostly unheard in public forums ignored in the dominant media and if noticed at all dismissed by state supported bureaucracies and commercial vested interests to have any chance of gaining attention they must resolve themselves into coherent forms we need to clarify our perceptions of the things that trouble us by articulating and developing our thoughts about them that is we are in need of serious criticism serious criticism aesthetic social and political which is notably lacking in the contemporary world especially in places readily available to the educated non specialist such as the quality weekend newspapers and especially perhaps in relation to the visual arts the pieces collected in this volume are not presented as amounting to an overall account or theory of our cultural condition they are offered merely as examples of serious criticism of what we need if we are to begin to think more profitably about our condition daring in defiance of contemporary dogmatism to make the necessary judgements of value without which our culture will continue to disintegrate orientalist poetics is the only book on literary orientalism that spans the nineteenth century in both england and france with particular attention to poetry and poetics it convincingly demonstrates orientalism s centrality to the evolution of poetry and poetics in both nations and provides a singularly comprehensive and definitive analysis of the aesthetic impact of orientalism on nineteenth century poetry because it examines the poetry of the entire century across both national literatures the book is in a unique position to articulate the essential part orientalism plays in major developments of nineteenth century poetics through probing discussions of an array of prominent nineteenth century poets including shelley southeby byron hugo musset leconte de lisle wordsworth hemans gautier tennyson arnold and wilde emily a haddad reveals how orientalism functions as a diffuse avant garde a crucial medium for the cultivation and refinement of a broad range of experimental positions on poetry and poetics haddad argues that while orientalist poems are often viewed mainly as artefacts of european attitudes towards the east and imperialism poetic representations of the islamic orient also provide an indispensable matrix for the reexamination of such aesthetically fundamental issues as the purpose of poetry the value of mimesis and the relationship between nature and art orientalist poetics effectively bridges the gap between the analysis of poetics and the analysis of orientalism in showing that major poetic developments have roots in orientalism haddad s book offers a valuable and innovative revisionist view of nineteenth century literary history many books have been written about the hereafter but only because someone had read that the hereafter was another way of life the fact remains that transition is leaving one world to enter another one the fear of leaving is very real and if someone could shed some light about the hereafter then fear would be a back seat opponent history as no proof except what we read therefore everything that is written is either true or false can we say that history is one hundred percent pure face no cause all we have is the books to tell us the facts this book draws attention to the pervasive artistic rivalry between elizabethan poetry and gardens in order to illustrate the benefits of a trans media approach to the literary culture of the period in its blending of textual studies with discussions of specific historical patches of earth the poem and the garden demonstrates how the fashions that drove poetic invention were as likely to be influenced by a popular print convention or a particular garden experience as they were by the formal genres of the classical poets by moving beyond a strictly verbal approach in its analysis of creative imitation this volume offers new ways of appreciating the kinds of comparative and competitive methods that shaped early modern poetics noting shared patterns both conceptual and material in these two areas not only helps explain the persistence of botanical metaphors in sixteenth century books of poetry but also offers a new perspective on the types of contrastive illusions that distinguish the elizabethan aesthetic with its interdisciplinary approach the poem and the garden is of interest to all students and scholars who study early modern poetics book history and garden studies
